City of South San Francisco

PROJECT DESCRIPTION & LOCATION MAP:

The South Airport Boulevard Bridge over the San Bruno Canal at North Access Road and the 380 Freeway on ramp needs to be replaced due to its deteriorated condition. The initial bridge was built in 1949 on wood piles. In 1975, the bridge was widened, and the new sections were supported on concrete piles. The City with the assistance of Caltrans has been successful in obtaining funding from the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) for the new design and construction costs. In order to maintain traffic on South Airport Boulevard, the bridge will be replaced in four (4) phases. Due to California Department of Fish & Wildlife regulations, work is limited in the creek and riparian zone from April 15 to October 31 each year. Therefore, it is anticipated that the majority of bridge replacement tasks will occur over two (2) consecutive spring and summer seasons.

CLOSURES & DETOURS:

There are no closures anticipated at this time. As a result of construction operations, you may experience traffic congestion on South Airport Boulevard at I-380. Please use the San Bruno Ave to the south and South Airport Blvd / US 101 interchange to the north as alternative routes.

CONSTRUCTION SCHEDULE:

Anticipated Start: May 2018

Completion: November 2019
