ATTENTION PARENTS: Library policy permits children access to all materials and resources in the system – print, audio visual and online (such as Internet). As a parent or guardian, if you desire to limit your child's access to these items and resources, you should make this desire known to your child. The library does not withhold materials from any patron on the basis of age. The South San Francisco Public Library encourages parents to take an active interest in their child's reading. Reading is more fun and meaningful when shared.
